MORVICH FAVORITE IN KENTUCKY DERBY

Special Trains Bring Throng to Louisville for Great Turf Event of the South Today

(By The Associated Press.)

Louisville, Ky., May 12. — Owners of 13 thoroughbreds, ten colts and a filly, regarded as the best on the American turf, today accepted the issue for the 48th renewal of the Kentucky derby-at Churchill Downs tomorrow, according to the official entries.

The race is a mile and a quarter for three-year-olds and carries $50,000 to added money. Its gross value to the winner will be approximately $47,000.

In the post positions, John Finn was given the rail. Morvich is fourth and By-Gosh the outsider. Each colt will carry 125 pounds and the filly, Starline, 121 pounds.

Meanwhile, the derby throng constantly was being augmented during the day by the arrival of special trains and private cars, and regular trains with extra sections. So numerous were they that room could not be found to park them at the union station. Members of the Athletic club of Chicago arrived on a chartered train with ten Pullmans, while a regular train from the same city was followed by a special section of ten cars.

A Pennsylvania railroad announced that it had sold seven trains were due tomorrow from Chicago, with private cars bringing among others those of E. Biefield and P. J. Carr.

Leading hotels long ago announced all space taken. The smaller ones today began turning patrons away and directed them to rooming houses. The demand for accommodations so exceeded the supply that automobile tourists parked their cars and slept in them at the tourist camp in one of the city parks.

So great had the host become tonight and the pressure for accommodations so heavy that many persons slept in hotel offices and on benches in the parks.

The day before the struggle, the unbeaten Morvich retained his position as the popular entry.

STAMFORD IS "ALL SET"

Club Has Finished Signing Up Players and East Team Is Assured.

(Special to The Star.)

Stamford, May 12. — The Stamford Baseball club has now finished signing up players for the season, and expects to have the strongest team the town has ever had.

Eight of the team are from Holy Cross college, Worcester, Mass. This team won the Eastern College championship last season, and are bidding for it this year, having lost but two games out of 13 played so far this season. Stamford will have men from the first string, men that are capable of holding jobs in the big leagues. In fact some of them have already been approached by big league scouts, and go up in 1923 when they finish college.

The line-up of the Stamford team this season will be as follows:

Pitchers—Horan, who has signed with the Giants and goes next year. Gill and Carroll, all from Holy Cross regular pitching staff, and Mason from University of Maine.

Catcher—Denny Martin, regular catcher for Holy Cross.

First Base—Garvey of Notre Dame, also a catcher.

Second—Kellogg of Springfield.

Short stop—Herb Kopf of last year's team. He has two brothers on the big leagues. Willie Kopf with the Giants and Larry Kopf with the Boston Braves.

Third—Doherty of Holy Cross.

Outfielders—Simondinger, who had offers this year from Detroit, but will not go until 1923, when he graduates and Leo and Len Dugan, brothers of the Dugan who plays for the Boston Red Sox. Boston paid $75,000 for Joe Dugan this season.

Watch what these boys are doing in college this year and then watch them when they come to Stamford. The fans are assured of many red hot games. Thirty-five games have already been scheduled and many more good ones are in the making. This will be the hardest schedule Stamford has ever played.

STEELS FEATURE THE STOCK LIST

Otherwise Dealings Denote Further Diminution of Public Interest and Speculative Enthusiasm

New York, May 12. — Steel shares featured today's stock market. Otherwise the list denoted further diminution of public interest and recent speculative enthusiasm.

Lackawanna Steel was the foremost feature throughout the session. The company's proposed merger with Bethlehem Steel caused an additional extreme rise of 13 points and a net gain of 12%, making a total of 19% points in two days.

Other independent steels, particularly those mentioned as integral parts of the seven-company consolidation, which originally included Lackawanna, were reactionary at first but rallied later. Crucible, Bethlehem, Republic, Sloss-Sheffield, Gulf States and Wickwire-Spencer scored gross gains of 3 to 6% points.

United States Steel was the only important issue of its particular type to show a narrow movement, but it closed at an advance of 1%. Announcement that the senate had adopted a resolution to investigate proposed steel mergers was ignored, aside from a brief halt in the advance.

Industrials, notably Pullman and General Electric, derived more or less substantial benefit from the demand for steels, and motors and oils also improved. Noteworthy exceptions embraced Pierce Arrow common and preferred, which were heavily sold out on failure of the negotiations with Lafayette Motor.

Responsive to the better tone of the stock market, the bond list hardened today on broad operations which included net investment issues.

Including the Bethlehem-Lackawanna steel merger, Lackawanna Steel 5s rose 5 points. Virginia Chemical also strengthened with American cotton oil.

Metropolis, Illinois. — "I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it is all it claims to be and has benefited me wonderfully. I had been sick for eight months with a trouble which confined me to my bed and was only able to be up part of the time, when I was advised by a friend, Mrs. Smith, to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills. I was so much benefited by the use of these medicines that I was able to be up and about in two weeks. I was at the Change of Life when I began taking the medicine and I passed over the time without any trouble. Now I am hale and hearty, do all my housework, washing, ironing, scrubbing, and cooking, all there is to do about a house, and can walk two or three miles without getting tired. EDITORIAL MENTION

Observance of Mothers' Day.

Though comparatively but a short time recognized, there is probably no day of observance in the United States, save perhaps the Fourth of July and Christmas, which has such general consideration as the second Sunday of May. This is as it should be, since whatever reason for respect on other occasions there may be, in one thing there is common fact—that all have—or have had, mothers! All may not be as patriotic as they should be, nor all so religious, but every one much earlier than patriotism or religion had become imbued with love like to that which a mother herself poured from the full chalice of her being. It matters not, therefore, what nationality, what party or what creed one acknowledges, the thing remembered best, which goes farthest back and is anchored strongest in memory is the face of that being whom we recall by a name which from the earliest beginnings of the race has come down in all languages practically unchanged—the name of "Mother."

It is entirely proper and fitting, therefore, that tomorrow the mind of each should turn in grateful recollection to one who, be she living on earth or passed to a realm where perchance she may be looking down as tenderly as once she did above a sleeping child, is still the mother. The thought of her has to every one been a gracious memory. It is a recollection which will long endure; and it is well that not merely as a casual thing but as an annual event one day should be specially dedicated to her; that with flowers as tokens we indicate in formal fashion what every day we should remember—our abiding love for her whose life was passed, or is passing, the high hope that we may in our own day be worthy growth from the blossom of her love and faith and unselfish endeavor.

The School Building Appropriation.

As is elsewhere noted in The Star, the election yesterday for the purpose of voting upon an appropriation for the proposed new school building in the Sixth ward, was carried by a vote of 255 to 19. This is, in a general sense, satisfactory, in that it assures the erection of a new school in that portion of the city where it was most needed; and if there is any regret whatever it is because out of the large eligible body of voters who were present, so few voted, particularly of residents of that section of the city where the new building is to be erected. The question was an important one, the need of the building was acknowledged, practically not a single person had been heard to utter a word in opposition. Yet under these circumstances, possibly not more than one person in eight of those qualified electors cast a ballot.

Doubtless the small vote was due to the fact that it was generally understood that the proposition was sure to carry. It certainly could not have been because of any feeling of indifference. That would be unthinkable in a city which has always been noted for its interest in education and all things which pertain to civic welfare. Rather it must be attributed to a belief that personal attention was unnecessary, that the matter was one which could safely be entrusted to the other fellow to carry through.

The election came out all right yesterday, despite the lack of voting interest; but it is not a safe precedent to follow. Some day and in the presence of an emergency as great, there may come a rude awakening.

Encroaching Signs.

A recent resolution of the board of public works requesting the police authorities to take action relative to signs which on business streets encroach upon the sidewalks of the city will be generally approved. There is no intention whatever to interfere with the rights of the individual, so far at least as proper and safe use of his own property is concerned, but the placing of signs either on the sidewalks, poles or standards within the street lines is properly disapproved, and any action taken by the police authorities relative to the matter will, by the public, be commended. The same thing is true of signs above the streets or walks, which are likely at any time to become a public nuisance, and are included in the same category.

Generally summed up: The sidewalks and streets are for pedestrians and for vehicular traffic. The use of property at liberty to do as he pleases with his own as long as it does not endanger the public safety, but within the street lines the rights of the city are paramount.

Newspapermen to Visit Catskills.

Newspaper representatives from every section of New York state and from nearby states will have an opportunity of seeing the Catskill mountains and what has been done toward construction of state highways on May 22-23 and 24 when as guests of the Circulation Managers' association of Greater New York, they will enjoy a three-day tour through the mountains.

Party will leave New York on May 22 on the steamer Robert A. Snyder of the Saugerties Evening line, arriving at Saugerties Tuesday morning, and will travel by auto over the Rip Van Winkle trail, which extends from Catskill through Falmont, Haines Falls, Tannersville and west to Stamford. They will visit the Gilboa dam of the New York Water system, continuing to Stamford and returning to Catskill for a "Get acquainted" dinner at Green Lake. The party will be under the personal guidance of R. S. Barrett of Catskill. Wednesday the party will visit Catskill village and return to New York by the Day Line steamer Washington Irving, arriving at New York City.

PRESS AND PUBLIC OPINION

Pillaging Farms.

Comes now the season of farm vandalism. There possibly is no greater pest that has to be endured on the land than the lawlessness of people who have no idea of the value of farm property, and who walk over and destroy crops, and otherwise harass farmers.

Primarily this is due to heedless disregard for the rights of others. There is a fundamental lacking in the upbringing of persons who trespass flagrantly. There is added indignity in the absolute ignorance of relative values by a generation that has had no experience on farms and that knows nothing of the cost in work and money of producing things on the land. Persons who would hesitate to take a peanut from a vendor in the city will stalk across fields, and take anything, loot an orchard, help themselves to strawberries and destroy crops in the country.

This pillage is furthered by the commonness of automobiles. Many owners of these machines seem to think that anything outside the city limits is common property, and plain thieving is carried on with utter disregard for the rights of others.

There is need for a new sense of property values and of the rights of others. Farmers are, in general, hospitable; they welcome visitors; they are not grudging in giving; but they are no more disposed to look on trespassers as intruders on their farms on which time, work and money have been expended and in which their capital is invested, than the owner of a manufacturing plant would be.—[Schenectady Union Star.

Labor and the Courts.

The chief function of civil courts is to protect property, and trade unionists, as a rule, have little property. In a case involving an employer and a union the property interest is generally the employer's. Consequently it is true, as many reports have indicated, that the poor man does not stand on an equal footing with his more wealthy fellow citizen when both appear at the bar of justice. These are the realities which Mr. Gompers discussed as Mr. Untermyer pressed him. But the case cannot indefinitely rest there. Labor must become master in its own house, and a way must be found to settle jurisdictional quarrels if the unions hope to escape juridical regulation.—[New York Globe.

Our Levant Colleges.

Henry Morgenthau, our former Ambassador to Turkey, and Mary Mills Patrick, the esteemed head of Constantinople College for Women, have presented before the Senate of the American colleges in the Levant. In the absence of a mandate for any part of the present or former Turkish dominions, these colleges are the most impressive permanent evidence of the desire of America to spread abroad the blessings of peaceful industry that we know at home.—[Philadelphia Ledger.

The Criminal and Society.

The committee of the American Bar association, composed of eminent lawyers who have specially studied the crime problem, reaches the conclusion that "the prevalence of an abnormal volume of crime in our cities is the result of years of mollycoddling and sympathy by misfeminate and unwisdoms." That such a statement should come from a source so responsible suggests that the penological pendulum begins to swing away from the direction in which it has been traveling.—[New York Tribune.

How Much Do You Live?

A turtle from the Galapagos Islands lives four or five hundred years. It lives altogether less than a century, but in an hour when he alone deaf, unable to hear a sound from the orchestra, conducted his great work, of which he never heard a note except in his own magnificent brain. How much you live, not how long you live, is what counts.—[New York American.

Wells Is Not a Historian.

The Department on Study of Revolutionary Movements of the National Civic Federation has at last found time to pass judgment on Wells' "Outline of History." About a hundred college professors have been interviewed, and "the consensus of opinion, with some exceptions," says the chairman of the Revolutionary Department, "is that Mr. Wells is not a historian at all."—[Exchange.

The Call of the Church.

The graduating class of 66 at the Princeton Theological seminary is one of the largest in its 116 years of history. It is additional recent evidence tending to show that the Christian ministry as a calling for well-educated young men is not losing ground.—[Springfield Republican.

Odd Fellows Gather at Walton.

Several members of David Wilber, canton, No. 37, of this city, are planning on going to Walton on May 16, to take part in the institution of a new canton in that place. The trip will be made by auto and cars will leave the city rooms at 12 o'clock. All members are invited to go and furnish their car if possible. The work will be in charge of Col. A. H. Potter of Binghamton. The institution will take place at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, followed by election and installation of officers. A big street parade, followed by a banquet and the conferring of the 32nd degree in the state armory will complete the day's events. It is hoped that Oneonta will be well represented at this important occasion.

When Land Was Cheap in Schoharie. Schoharie, May 12. — Three deeds were filed in the county clerk's office here this week which are remarkable for their age, one of them bearing date August 21, 1791, and which had never been recorded.

This relic from the early days of Schoharie county was given by Jacob Dice and John Dice, as executors of Jane Dice to Elijah Mallory, and conveyed 36 acres of land for the small sum of $75.

SPEAKING OF FOREIGN ENTANGLEMENTS

POOLING DAIRYMEN

Are Rapidly Acquiring Plants and Equipment for the Handling of Surplus Milk—Deductions from Milk Checks to Draw Interest Hereafter.

One of the significant things that marks the progress of milk pooling during the first year of operation is the rapidity with which the dairymen through the Dairymen's League Co-operative association, have acquired milk plants and equipment necessary to take care of the surplus production. All of the money which has gone into the purchase of these plants and equipment has been furnished by the farmers themselves in the form of deductions from their monthly milk checks, pro-rated according to the quantity of milk produced in each case.

The auditing department of the league is now busy totaling this year's deductions for each farmer and preparing to deliver to each dairymen a certificate of indebtedness representing these deductions. These certificates will bear interest at 6 percent, payable annually with principal due in five years from date of issue. They will be transferable and will be acceptable at banks as collateral for loans.

These certificates represent the money which the pooling dairymen have invested as a working fund in plants and equipment to protect their industry against attacks being made upon it by certain dealers at the present time. Incidentally, from these plants league products are finding their way into the best markets of the United States and of many foreign countries.

This extra money which league farmers have put into their marketing business and for which they now will receive interest certificates has helped to place the "farmers own" brand of milk goods on the highest levels of quality. The certificates will be ready for distribution early in June. They will not be mailed, but will be distributed through the local banks to the farmers in their localities.—[Utica Observer-Dispatch.

May 13, 1902.

Plans for the new D. & H. depot are being made by Architect Brown of Albany.

Dr. Julian C. Smith has arrived in town and is arranging to open his office in the Merchants' Exchange block. It is expected that work on the new fire alarm system will be started the first of the week.

Frank G. Sherman of Salt Lake City, Utah, will arrive in town tomorrow, called here by the lamentable death of his father, John G. Sherman.

Windham Bank Chartered.

The comptroller of the currency has authorized the First National bank of Windham to commence business, the organizers having complied with the law. The bank will be opened within a short time, as soon as the bank building is completed. Otis Vail of Florida, Orange county, will be the cashier.

SUPREME COURT ADJOURNS.

Last Case Settled—Wolchick Now Out on Bail.

Cooperstown, May 12. — At the court house this morning Dominick Wolchick of Oneonta, indicted for violation of the state prohibition law, plead not guilty and his case was sent to the county court for trial. Orange L. VanHorne esq. appeared for the defendant and reserved the right to demur or move to dismiss the indictment.

Following this action court adjourned to Monday next for the trial of the Stocking vs. Armstrong case. Later in the day the case was settled out of court and it is therefore probable that Justice Tutill will not return, but that the county clerk will adjourn court.

On his return to Binghamton yesterday Justice Tutill was accompanied by his associate this week on the bench, John Shipman, aged 5 years, who will be his guest for the week-end.

Do Your Glasses Fit The Occasion?

Of course you can wear your shur-on-rimless eye-glasses for tennis and horseback riding, but it isn't proper. DRAMATIC CLUB BANQUET.

Enjoyable Event at High School Last Evening.

The Dramatic club of the Oneonta High school held its third annual banquet in the Paul Revere corridor of the high school building at 6 o'clock Friday evening. About seventy young people were present. The tables were tastefully decorated with reasonable flowers and each of the place cards was the product of thought and skill. The guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. George J. Damm, Mr. and Mrs. VanDusen, Miss Rowland, Miss Thompson, Miss Briggs, Miss Shuffelt, Miss Peck, Miss Cowan and Miss Wendling. Following the banquet dancing was enjoyed, an excellent four-piece orchestra with the fierce appellation of The Pinchers making its appearance. One feature of the arrangements for the evening was the fact that the orchestra was stationed in the center of the gymnasium. The Dramatic Club banquet has always been one of the most popular social events of the school year, and this year's dinner dance was most delightful.

Wilbur National Bank, Oneonta, N. Y.
This bank has just passed its forty-eighth anniversary. During its long career, time has demonstrated the soundness of the policies on which the first board of directors founded this bank and which has continued throughout its existence. Many are doing business with it today who were among the first depositors. The 24th government report is published in another column, showing resources of nearly four million dollars, which indicates progress and strength. Be sure and read it.

The suggestion has lately been made and in some cities will be widely followed, that the American flag be displayed on homes and places of business today and tomorrow in honor of Mothers' day.

The War Mothers' Day association has designated the white carnation as its emblem and urges all mothers whose sons died in the war to wear this flower on Sunday.

Can You Understand

Why a lot of chumps choose disgrace and getting behind prison bars, in order to get a few measly dollars, when they see several thousand others, with no better chance, who are making small amounts safely roll up to several million dollars? This chance has been given in Oneonta for 33 years and its latch string is still out at No. 54 Chestnut street, where a chance is given to be somebody instead of nobody. It also helps to put the kibosh on Slippery Slick and Co. and is a great blessing to the wife and sane Oneonta Building and Loan association.

ARETHUSA CONVOCATION

Sorority Tea and Athletic Association Dance Friday — Entertainments for Today.

The delegates from the four chapters of Arethusa are now present in full force. The delegates are as follows: Buffalo, Zeta chapter, Gertrude Murray and Alicia Ward; Brockport, Alpha chapter, Dorinda Johnston and Richee Bangs; New Paltz, Epsilon chapter, Gertrude Blackburn and Betty Vandine; Geneseo, Gamma chapter, Clara Rockwell, Emma Poltz, Margaret Murphy and Mona Avery; Oneonta, Margaret Jack and Dorothy Smith.

Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock the members of the local chapter Arethusa and the visiting delegates enjoyed a most delightful tea at the Arethusa rooms at the Normal. The dance was most informal and everyone present had a most enjoyable afternoon. This is one of the most popular events of the annual convocation and is the one opportunity for unrestricted "talk." At 7:30 the delegates were the guests of the Athletic association at a party given in the gymnasium for all the classes at the Normal. The dance was one of the best attended affairs of the season, about five hundred being present. The school orchestra furnished the needed music. During the course of the entertainment refreshments were served.

Today marks the end of the three-day convocation, and a busy day has been arranged for the delegates. At 9 o'clock this morning, the annual business meeting will be held in the club rooms. At 1:30 the members of the local chapter Arethusa and the visiting delegates will be the guests of the Clio, Ago and Alpha Delta sororities at an entertainment called Bacon Bat. The program for the afternoon is a profound secret. The girls say: "No one will know what it is, until it is."

At 6 p. m. the annual banquet will be given in the Kindergarten rooms at the Normal. The members of the local chapter Arethusa, visiting delegates and Alumni will be present. A very interesting program of toastmastered by the grand president, Marjorie Pagan, will give a welcome address to the visitors. Professor Lynch and Dr. Burgee will also address the diners. The following toasts will be given by the representatives of the various chapters: "Fountain of Arethusa," Alpha chapter, Brockport.

"Arethusa — Her Interests," Delta chapter, Oneonta.
"Arethusa — Her Ideas and Ideals," Gamma chapter, Geneseo.
"Arethusa — Her Growth," Epsilon chapter, New Paltz.
"Arethusa — Her Influence," Zeta chapter, Buffalo.

Later in the evening at 8 o'clock there will be a dance for the Arethusa girls and their invited guests. Dr. Burgee, Professor Lynch, Miss Matteson and Mr. and Mrs. Walcott will be present. Music for the dancing will be furnished by Smith's Melody Four.

TO OPEN SEASON TODAY

Susquehanna Division Ball Team to Play Penn Division Opener at Carbondale This Afternoon.

"All aboard for Carbondale" will be shouted at the D. & H. passenger station this morning at 7:30 o'clock and the Susquehanna division ball team and a goodly company of rooters will embark aboard a special train provided by the company for Carbondale, Pa., where Manager Brodie's team will open the season with the Pennsylvania team. The team representing this division has been practicing for days and not only are the twirlers in good form but the boys have their eyes on the ball and they expect to bring back the bacon.

The line up was not fully determined last night but it is not improbable that Davis and Sinstack will be in the points for the Susquehanna division team. There will be plenty of material for the game and the line up will not unlikely be dependent upon the form that the players show in practice.

Late in the afternoon it was announced that the special train would be run and that all employees of the company who desired to witness the game would be welcome on the train. It is expected that the coaches will be crowded as the interest is keen for this early in the season. The fact that the division team here won from the Generals, the headquarters team the series last fall makes the interest greater.

Unless the Penn division team spring some surprises upon the visitors the latter should win as Manager Brodie has good material with exceptional good battery men. It is understood that the game is to be called at 2 o'clock.

CARRIED BY BIG MAJORITY

Sixth Ward is to Have $40,000 School Building—Proposition Carries Thirteen to One—Plans Ready and Proposals Will at Once Be Asked.

The special election called for the purpose of voting on an appropriation for the erection of a new ward school house on River street was held yesterday in the city court chambers in Municipal building. The result, which in general had been anticipated, was overwhelmingly in favor of the measure, the vote when the polls closed at four o'clock standing 262 for and 19 against the proposition, which was for the expenditure of $40,000 for a site, and 235 for and 35 against the second proposition, which authorizes the erection of a building at a cost of $35,000. It appears, as naturally would be the case, that those who voted against the first proposition voted also against the second, as logically they could not vote for a building without a site to put it on. The difference in the affirmative vote was due to the apparent fact that a few who voted "yes" on the first question overlooked the necessity of voting also on the second if the money for the building was to be voted. At any rate no one voted "yes" on one proposition and "no" on the other.

While the vote was not large, it was at any rate conclusive; and if every qualified voter in the city had been out it is not likely that the comparative vote, which was one against thirteen or so in favor would have been changed. There is general knowledge of conditions, and the necessity of an additional building is acknowledged. In anticipation of the result which yesterday was attained, plans had been considered by the board of education and architect Epps, and it is expected that the necessary advertising for proposals will be published at once.

Owing to the lateness of the season, it will be difficult, allowing for the necessary time for advertising the letting, to have the building ready in time for opening of school next fall. In fact this is not now anticipated. But at least it will be well under way, and the end of the year should see the structure finished and the school ready to move in. This result cannot too soon be reached. Crowded rooms and short day sessions will be the new building be overgrown and it will be possible to give the Sixth ward children the full-day instruction to which they are entitled.

New Mitchell Avenue School.

At the meeting of the Board of Education held on Tuesday, preliminary plans and sketches for the Mitchell avenue school were presented by Architect Orlo Epps and were approved by the board. In anticipation of favorable action by citizens at the bond election the board ordered Mr. Epps to proceed with permanent plans and specifications. These are nearly completed and it is expected that they will be ready by the first of the week to be sent to Albany for the approval of the State Department of Education. It is thought that no material change will be made in the plans by the State Department and doubtless bids will be advertised in the very near future.

The plans call for a two story brick structure containing six grade rooms, janitor and necessary offices, cloak room, toilets, etc. The building will be constructed of brick with artificial stone foundation and trim and will be equipped according to the best modern practice as regards heat, light and plumbing. Although of ample size, outside dimensions being 32 feet wide on Mitchell avenue by 122 feet deep, the school will by no means fill the good sized lot and there will be plenty of room for playgrounds. Approximately 240 pupils will be accommodated. Five of the six class rooms will have an easterly exposure, the other facing the west.

The public entrance will be on Mitchell avenue and will be through a porch and vestibule into the main hall. At the right of the entrance will be the principal's office and at the left the library and teachers' room. There will be two classrooms, 22 to 30 feet in size, on the first floor, together with necessary cloakrooms. In the center of the building and extending into the rear—the building will be T-shaped—will be a combination gymnasium and auditorium. The floor will be of good grade tile. From the entrance to the floor there will be a sloping tier of permanent seats. Storage space for chairs will be provided under the tier of permanent seats. At the rear there will be a restroom and dressing rooms.

An unusual feature of the building will be the position of the toilets, which will open off the stair landing and will be easily accessible from either floor. The second floor will have four class rooms of ample size. The lighting system will be of the most modern type and will be similar to that installed in the remodeled Chestnut street school. The interior will be trimmed in stained express.

The students' entrances will be at the rear, one on each side of the room. Entrance therefrom may be had directly into the gymnasium. The building will be heated by steam and will have a fan ventilator system. An ornamental cupola on the roof, which will be asbestos shingled, will house the ventilator inlets and outlets.

HEARING ON TELEPHONE CASE

Otego and Delaware Company Outline Plans Relative to Ouleout Valley Connections — Will Build Toll Line to Franklin — Claims and Counter Claims Discussed.

Albany, May 12.—H. W. Fluher and Howard Hendrickson, attorneys for the Otego & Delaware Telephone company, appeared before the commission Thursday to answer an order to show cause as to why it should not be required forthwith to furnish toll service to the Ouleout Valley Telephone company. On April 19th the Otego company discontinued service on account of the failure of the Ouleout company to pay toll bills for a period of over five months.

The Otego company is willing to forthwith restore toll service if the Ouleout company will pay the back toll bills. The Otego company is planning to construct a new line of three circuits with copper wire from its Otego exchange to Franklin and suited to the commission that had no intention of competing with the Ouleout company for local service; that it was willing to connect up the Ouleout company to this new line for toll service and that in the event that the Ouleout company would not accept this service, a pay station would be established in Franklin.

The Ouleout company claims that there is an amount due it on account of rentals of instruments formerly used by it prior to the time when the Otego & Delaware company took over the property. The Otego company claims that it has never been presented with a definite claim and it is ready to discuss it when ever such claim is presented and make such settlement as the facts warrant. The case was closed and an order will be made by the commission later.

GIRL SCOUT PLAY.

Girl Scouts Present "Taming of Horrors" to Delight of Large Audience.

A large audience filled the auditorium at the Woman's club last evening to witness the "Taming of Horrors," the second act of the mischievous horrors was half "tamed," and at the end she was a full fledged Girl Scout. Ruth McGuinness as "Horrors," and Elizabeth Foster as "Parlor Kent" were wonderfully true to life. The girls of Paradise Alley roused much laughter with witty remarks. Sylvia Lamonica took out herself thirty additional years in order to faithfully depict Mrs. Lipton, the matron, whose fond hopes for reforming Horrors are at last realized. The drills and songs by the two troops of Mrs. Lutsey and Mrs. Howe were much enjoyed by the audience. Much credit for the success of the entertainment was due to the efforts of Miss Sarah Miller, who drilled the girls, and Miss Gladys Huesgen who directed the singing.

TALKS WITH PRESIDENT

Wesley Barry, Youthful Film Star, Has Interview With Chief Executive—Nephew of Milford Center Woman.

"Freckles" Barry, who will appear in "School Days" at the Strand on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week, has been on parade in many of the principal cities of the country, but he met his greatest honor but a few days ago when he was granted a private interview by President Harding. "Freckles" conversed with the President for a few minutes and gave him a basket of California oranges together with a few remarks concerning the more or less well known climate of that state.

The youthful star, who receives a yearly salary that would make a bank president envious, is a nephew of Mrs. C. E. Morey of Milford Center and was her guest for several days last spring. He was persuaded by Manager Rose to appear in person at the Strand and many Oneontans had an opportunity to meet him. Soon after "Freckles" left Oneonta, work on "School Days" was started. This picture, several scenes of which were filmed at Delaware Water Gap, is one of the sensations of the movie world.

OLDEST WOMAN IN STATE

Mrs. Delina Filkins of Stark, 107 Years Young, Without Glasses But Regrets She Must Carry a Cane.

In the picturesque hills a few miles south of Mohawk village, in the town of Stark, Herkimer county, Mrs. Delina Filkins on Thursday of last week observed her 107th birthday by receiving the congratulations of her many friends and relatives.

She was born May 4, 1815, a memorable year in the historic past of the United States; the same year in which Jackson defeated the British in New Orleans and the treaty of peace with Great Britain was ratified.

Her birthplace was a house built by her grandfather, whose name was John Ecker, a house that has been standing more than 200 years, and which is located about a mile and a half from her parents' home. Her whole life has been spent in this region south of the Mohawk.

Five generations have passed in review before this rare old woman, who enjoys the distinction of being the oldest woman in New York state, and of having lived in the same house for 107 years. She has never ridden either on the steam railway or a trolley car. In spite of her advanced age, she is remarkably well preserved, and just this last month read without glasses a letter she received from Utica. Her mental faculties are as keen as a girl of twenty-five but her hearing is somewhat impaired, and lately she has had to resort to the use of a cane.

On the day of her 100th birthday she celebrated the event by taking her first automobile ride with her nephew, Frank Harris, of Mohawk. She has never ridden either on the steam railway or a trolley car. In spite of her advanced age, she is remarkably well preserved, and just this last month read without glasses a letter she received from Utica. Her mental faculties are as keen as a girl of twenty-five but her hearing is somewhat impaired, and lately she has had to resort to the use of a cane.

Occawana Class Play.
Mrs. Robert Hall's class of girls at the United Presbyterian church presented the play, "Seeking a Servant," with great success last evening. The church was well filled with an appreciative audience. The story deals with a French family whose maid decides to return to the mother country. The applicants for the position so besiege the bewildered mother and daughter that their apartments come near to being the scene of mob violence. Marie, the maid, changes her mind and returns just in time to clear the house of the unruly applicants. The closing scene is one of restored happiness as the members of the cast were well drilled and showed remarkable natural ability. Many favorable comments were elicited by the costuming of the characters from foreign countries. The presentation of the play was a most distinct success and the members of the class have every reason to be proud of the achievement of last evening.

Death of Wheeler Rhodes.
William Rhodes of 5 Harmon avenue has received notice of the death on Thursday morning of his brother, Wheeler Rhodes, who expired at his home in Franklin. The funeral services will be held at 1 p. m. today at his late home in Franklin, and the body will be brought to Glenwood cemetery in Oneonta.

Mr. Rhodes, who formerly resided in Oneonta, had more recently and to the time of his illness been driver on the Franklin-Otsego stage line. He was about 69 years of age and is survived by the brother above named and one sister, Mrs. Amanda Maudsley of Lookout, Pa.

STAMFORD'S GRAND OLD MAN

John Hoagland, Aged 86, Dies at Son's Home Friday Afternoon—Had Never Missed Voting.

Stamford, May 12.—John Hoagland, a life-long resident of this vicinity, and a man always held in high repute, died of the infirmities of age at the home of his son, D. C. Hoagland, in this village, this afternoon at 5 o'clock. He was 86 years old.

Despite his advanced years, Mr. Hoagland had been unusually active during the winter months and appeared to be in excellent physical condition. He did considerable work and was happy and cheerful. His last illness was of but a few weeks' duration.

A native of Harpersfield, most of Mr. Hoagland's active life was spent in that township, where he conducted a farm for many years. Through the years, he won an increasingly large circle of friends and by all he reached voting age, Mr. Hoagland never missed voting on election day. He was a Democrat in politics and although he had never held office, he took a prominent part in the political councils of yesteryear. Of the present generation, there are probably few who knew Mr. Hoagland intimately, but the older residents will always cherish his memory.

Mr. Hoagland married Hannah Lamb and after her death in 1890, he went to Hobart to live with his son, Charles Hoagland. For the past eight years, he had lived with his other son, D. C. Hoagland, in Stamford. He also is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Stephen Hillis and Mrs. Eli Dayton, both of Hobart.

Funeral services will be held at the home of D. C. Hoagland Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. J. C. Codrington, pastor of the Methodist church, will officiate, and burial will be beside his wife in the cemetery at Harpersfield Center. Mr. Hoagland was a member of the Hobart Presbyterian church and had always been a generous supporter.

Funeral of Joseph Waklin.
The funeral of Joseph Waklin, the unfortunate victim of yesterday's fatal automobile accident near Unadilla, will be held this morning, services at his late home, 82 West Broadway, at 9 o'clock being followed by the celebration of requiem high mass at St. Mary's church at 9:30. Rev. Father William Noonan will officiate at both services. Interment will be in Calvary cemetery.

CARBON DIOXIDE FOR GAS VICTIM

Public Health Service Tests
Method for Efficiency in Mines and Elevators.

CARBON MONOXIDE IS OUSTED

Breathing Is Stimulated by Use of Inhalator, Filling the Lungs With Oxygen—Inventor Sees Danger in Its Use.

New York.—Persons overcome by illuminating gas are being treated with carbon dioxide and oxygen by the United States public health service in a series of studies to determine whether the carbon dioxide treatment should be introduced into mines and grain elevators where the life-saving devices are prescribed by the United States government.

From each person treated by the new method, which was devised by Prof. Yandell Henderson of Yale, working under the United States bureau of mines, a few drops of blood are taken at the moment when the inhalator is first applied, and a few drops more are taken at the end of 20 minutes' use of this apparatus.

"The samples of blood are sent to Doctor Henderson at Yale," said Dr. Stuart Scott, who has been assigned by the United States public health service to take charge of the test of the invention in this city, where it is being used for the first time on human victims of gas poisoning.

"There the samples are being analyzed to discover what percentage of carbon monoxide has been removed from the blood in the 20 minutes during which the inhalator is used. It will take a long course of experiments to determine this. If it is finally shown that the use of carbon dioxide mixed with oxygen is the best antidote for asphyxiation, the inhalator will probably replace the different varieties of pulmotor now in use in government service."

Used to Stimulate Breathing.
The function of the carbon dioxide is to stimulate breathing, which becomes extremely feeble in a patient overcome by gas. The strong breathing keeps the lungs filled with oxygen, and the faster the oxygen enters the lungs the more rapidly the blood is cleared of the carbon monoxide.

In Bellevue and other hospitals a number of experiments have been carried on in the administration of carbon dioxide to patients who have been long under ether during operations. The use of carbon dioxide with great care in such cases is said to speed up breathing, so that the patients quickly clear the ether from their systems and suffer less than the usual ill effects from it.

The average case of gas poisoning is not the best kind on which to show the beneficial effect of the inhalator, according to Doctor Henderson, because of the fact that such cases have usually been under asphyxiation for many hours. During this time, lack of oxygen in the body often produces degenerative changes in the nerve and other body cells. The mere removal of the carbon monoxide and the restoration of the patient's breathing apparatus cannot repair the damage already done throughout the system of the patient.

The great benefit claimed for the use of the carbon dioxide process is in the early treatment of acute cases of gas poisoning, of firemen asphyxiated by smoke and similar cases of monoxide poisoning. Profound harmful changes may take place in the body of the sufferer within a short time in such cases, and slow processes of resuscitation do not save the patient from after effects which may linger for life in disturbed nerve centers and constitutional troubles.

The use of carbon dioxide in the resuscitation process, however, is believed to be capable of clearing the blood so quickly that a person suffering from severe asphyxiation may recover without ill effects if the remedy is used quickly.

Would Bar Inhalator's Use.
Even if the inhalator is a perfect device, Doctor Henderson asserts that it would be better if all such devices were prohibited by law, because their effect is to prevent workers in mines and elsewhere from learning how to restore breathing in an asphyxiated person without the use of instruments.

"The standpoint which seems to me to be justified by eight years of experience, ever since our commissioner first investigated the matter," he said, "is that, even if we had an ideally perfect apparatus for giving artificial respiration, it would still be better to discourage and even forbid the manufacture, sale, use and introduction of such apparatus, because it tends to delay, and thus more deaths—deaths which should and could be restituted."

HOLD QUARTERLY MEETING

REPORT OF DIRECTORS AND ADDRESS ON ZONING FEATURE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE SESSION

Clarence D. Pollock, Zoning Expert of New York, Gives Interesting and Enlightening Talk on City Zoning Problem—Agrees With Other Experts That Oneonta Should Have Zoning Ordinance—Report of Directors Gratifying.

The reading of the report of the board of directors for the first quarter of 1922 and an excellent address on City Zoning by Clarence D. Pollock, consulting engineer of New York City, featured the meeting of the membership of the Chamber of Commerce in Municipal hall last evening. Counter attractions and the lure of the open spaces detracted from the attendance but those few who forwent other pleasures to hear what the Chamber has been doing the past three months and to listen to a discussion of one of the most important problems which the city has to face were well repaid. The report was enlightening and Mr. Pollock's address proved both interesting and instructive.

Following community singing led by Jerry Wilson, President Roscoe C. Briggs of the Chamber of Commerce opened the meeting with a discussion of some of the more important problems before the Chamber as a precursor to the report of the board of directors. President Briggs dwelt especially upon the problem of increasing the attendance in the commercial classes at the High school, stating that it had been the experience of business men of the city that graduates of the High school commercial course made the most efficient stenographers and office assistants. He suggested that talks be given at the school by business and professional men to urge students starting the course to finish it.

The report of the directors for the first quarter of 1922, as read by Secretary

tary Everett C. Hicks, showed gratifying accomplishments during the first three months of the year and foretold still greater work to be done in the future. The report is printed in full elsewhere in this article.

Following the reading of the report, which was moved to be accepted and placed on file, Chairman P. R. Chambers of the Zoning committee was introduced. Mr. Chambers spoke of the need for zoning and of the work which the committee has already done and introduced as the speaker of the evening Clarence D. Pollock of New York City, an authority on city planning and zoning.

Mr. Pollock's Address.

Speaking from a wealth of experience gained from city planning and zoning work in many cities during the past few years, Mr. Pollock gave his hearers much to consider regarding the need of zoning in Oneonta and as to just what a zoning ordinance would do toward stabilizing real estate values and making the city a better place in which to live and do business. During the day he had been taken on an automobile tour of the city and he hence spoke from personal observation of what the city needs now and will need in the near future.

In stating that Oneonta has few present faults to correct but that the need for zoning will be felt in the very near future with the normal growth of the community, Mr. Pollock agreed with E. P. Goodrich, the zoning expert who addressed the Chamber last month. He discussed the problem of making Oneonta more attractive in appearance with the view more favorably to impress visitors to the city and dwell upon the problem of congestion on Main street. He stated that he believed that Main street was wide enough but that traffic congestion might be relieved by providing a secondary main thoroughfare for through traffic.

Mr. Pollock stated that ten years ago city zoning was practically unknown but that today 50 cities have ordinances and 100 have the matter under consideration. He spoke of the success of the measure in New York City and of the comparatively few changes which have been made in the original ordinance. Comparing zoning with good house keeping, the speaker said that it was an intelligent effort to direct the orderly building of a city, with a place for everything and everything in its place. He said that it would help the manufacturer and the business man and would also help to improve the value of the individual home, the backbone of the nation. Mr. Pollock stated that zoning was an extension of the police power and as such was recognized, when reasonable, by the courts and that it was as applicable to a small city as a large one. He also discussed at some length the various phases of zoning, already explained at length in these columns and no doubt familiar to the majority of citizens.

Following his address, which was listened to with the keenest interest, Mr. Pollock answered questions addressed those in attendance, several points of interest being brought out in his answers.

Quarterly Report of Directors.

To the Members of Oneonta Chamber of Commerce: The subject of zoning before public attention for consideration as to the need locally for such measures has been the most important activity of your Chamber of Commerce during the first quarterly period of this year.

This subject, which will be fully explained by the speaker of the evening in the regulation of building for the common good and for the protection of existing property investments as merited. Being a now departure in municipal regulation, zoning should be given careful and conservative consideration by our citizens. The apparent popularity zoning ordinances adopted by other cities have gained among property owners and home dwellers, and the good results which seemingly zoning has secured for these cities, warrants our seriously studying the proposition as it may benefit Oneonta.

Local advocates already won to the cause of zoning express the belief that if the project is successfully carried through, Oneonta Chamber of Commerce will have performed its most useful service to the city through leadership in crystallizing public sentiment on the subject of zoning. There also are those who are already convinced that zoning would be restriction harmful to growth of the city in certain respects.

In bringing in experts on zoning to explain the subject fully, it is our earnest desire that not only members of the Chamber of Commerce, but all citizens of Oneonta avail themselves of these opportunities to become personally acquainted with all aspects of this highly important subject. We urge those present tonight to spread the gospel and to bring your friends and neighbors to hear other speakers we will have here to address future meetings.

The need for a definite city plan which would embrace a scientific program for all municipal improvements required in the future is another subject which arises with zoning, which is in fact but one phase of what is known as comprehensive city planning. Such a city plan, it is said, would harmonize all such improvements for the benefit of the whole, would provide for economical preparation for them and judicious distribution of their cost, and would prevent costly mistakes and haphazard growth. Consequently, the need to study and consider city planning as well as zoning and to acquaint yourselves as fully as possible concerning both.

The Zoning committee comprises P. R. Chambers, E. D. Allen, M. E. McGinnis, George J. Dunn, W. B. R. McClelland, T. A. Crounse and C. C. Miller. Dr. D. H. Mills is chairman of the Forum committee, which makes arrangements for all forum meetings at which this and other subjects will be presented during the year.

One of our first achievements of the quarter was securing the co-operation of railroad officials in notifying the merchants, as to the dates of pay day, that they might properly prepare for cashing checks presented to them, and safeguard against pay day failures.

The pay check committee included Edward Crippen, M. C. Hemstreet, F. A. Herrieff, Lawrence Kenney, L. E. Wilder and George L. Winans. Petitions for the extension of express service to those sections of the city not now receiving such service have been widely circulated and signed through efforts of the committee. E. E. Desnoyers, L. C. Millard and Eugene E. Risley. Plans are formulated for presenting these petitions in a forceful manner in order that express delivery and collection service may be properly extended to all streets within the city limits, and to the Oneonta Plains.

The recommendations of our committee on the Pony Farm crossing, H. W. Lee chairman, were placed before the D. & H. officials and division officials have forwarded plans for the placing of gates at the crossings for the proper warning of motorists of approaching trains.

Palmer, R. E. Brigham, and A. E. Ford, reports that the facilities offered by this comfort station at 115 Main street which was installed last year by the Chamber, are being used daily and are greatly appreciated by large numbers of out-of-town shoppers and visitors as well as by many local residents. The committee is planning various means of more fully advertising these facilities to the public. The Chamber of Commerce has assumed all of the expense for maintaining the Rest room and we believe that the results more than justify the investment.

In order to keep fresh in our memory the names of those who gave their lives in the service of the country during the World War, we have secured elm stumps which have been planted by the Park commission around the memorial circle in Neahwa park at the Neahwa place entrance. Markers to dedicate each memorial tree to one of the fallen heroes have been obtained and will be placed on Memorial Day at the exercises conducted by the veterans organizations. This project has been planned by Ralph Wyckoff, Edwin R. Moore and S. Harrison Cheney.

Progress in carrying out the park improvements authorized by the bond issue, the passage of which represented a large portion of our work last year, is being made by the Park commission and we look forward with pleasure to the providing of nearly all of these recreational facilities this summer.

Advertising Oneonta is being effectively done. We have adopted the plan drafted by a committee comprising F. A. Herrieff, H. M. Goldsmith, and M. V. Beckstedt, of urging the use of a slogan as a postscript to each business letter sent out of Oneonta. A different slogan will be used each week, a postal naming the week's slogan being sent to all members that it may remain on their desks as a convenient reminder. While Oneonta has no outstanding features which sets it apart from other cities, we have a number of resources and advantages not generally known which can easily be given wide publicity through the simple method devised. We earnestly request that every member sending business letters out of the city adopt the practice of having the slogan for the week added as a postscript to all letters.

Arrangements for the conventions of the State Electrical Contractors and Dealers association and the State Undertakers association, to be held in Oneonta in June, are being gradually shaped. Our committees will co-operate with the local Electrical dealers in properly receiving and entertaining the visitors. A committee comprised of I. J. Bookhout, O. C. McCrum, Herbert A. Lewis, E. C. Packer, S. R. Dibble and R. S. Wyckoff, has been appointed to prepare for the entertainment of the undertakers convention and arrange for the trade exhibits and a means to that end the committee aided in forming the Tri-County Undertakers association recently.

Your Board invited the Farm Bureau to select Oneonta as the place for the county picnic this year, but no picnic will be held because of the inability of Manager Barlow to spare time from other work to plan for it. Since he is without an assistant this year, our Farm Bureau committee is making a canvass of business men to secure Oneonta's quota of 300 memberships in the Farm Bureau and improvement association as a part of the splendid work that organization is doing throughout the county. The proposition for a wholesale commission market for farm produce will be thoroughly discussed at a meeting to be held next Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in Municipal hall, to be attended by representatives from every section of the county. Since the principal produce handled by such a market in this section, the benefit of a co-operative or private commission house to the poultry and livestock industry will be the primary discussion before this first meeting. In addition to representation at this meeting by our committee, we would like all members interested to be present and participate in the discussion.

A dinner to the travelling salesman living in Oneonta is being arranged for the tentative date of June 3, by a committee composed of E. W. Kacker Jr., C. J. Beams, H. Spencer Iwerson, B. Kowe and C. H. Walling. Through this dinner, we hope to more fully acquaint those who represented Oneonta on the road with talking points about our city.

Discussion by Dr. Dunn and other directors of means of promoting large enrollments in the commercial courses at the High school has been a subject before our Board meetings and we hope to encourage a greater number of our young people to prepare themselves by proper training for business positions in Oneonta.

The publication of a new edition of city maps has been authorized by your Board at the expense of the Chamber of Commerce and these maps will soon be ready for general distribution. Your Board has approved the publication of a City Directory by The Star and its issuance this summer will be of much benefit to the business men and citizens generally.

The preparation of a building code and the locating of a municipal airplane landing field to be designated on aerial maps being published are other projects coming before attention of our members.

The Boosters have had noteworthy success in carrying out two of our plans assigned to them. A parking place for automobiles is being made ready through the generosity of J. A. Dewar in offering his lot on Broad street for free use by the city for such purpose, and through the energies of W. H. B. McClelland, William H. Lunn and L. B. Capron. The Clean-Up Week campaign last week was a banner one due to the earnest attention of Frank M. Hill, C. J. Van Deusen, L. D. Brown, William H. Lunn, Stuart Keenan, H. C. Getman, Ray F. Howland, the enthusiastic services of the Boy Scouts and the co-operation of the Boards of Health and Public Works and the Health Officer.

The use of our offices has been freely given to the Athletic association, the Farm Land bank, Farm Bureau committees, and others, and the Automobile club accepted our invitation to make our offices its headquarters for dissemination of road information to tourists.

We feel that proper recognition should be made for the success of our annual banquet, addressed by Douglas Malloch to Frank G. Sherman, Ralph S. Wyckoff and their committees.

Our progress in carrying out of the Program of Work drafted from recommendations of the members has been very satisfactory during the past three months. As the months roll on, we confidently expect our list of achievements to mount steadily greater, provided that we have your continued and unwavering support and energetic committee service.

Respectfully submitted,

Board of Directors, Oneonta Chamber of Commerce, Roscoe C. Briggs, President, Everett Hicks, Secretary.

The Figure 8 cuts a Big Figure

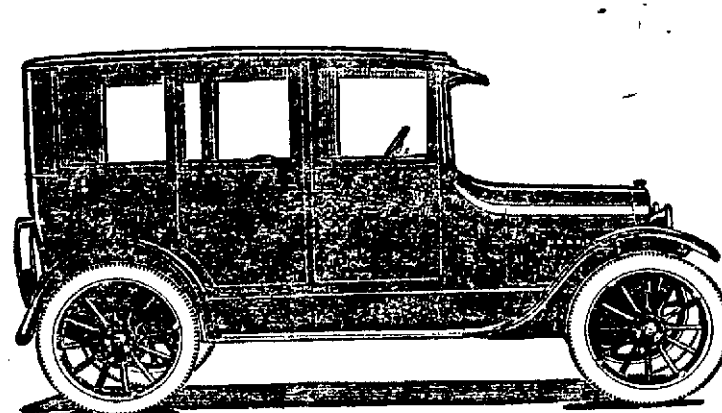

—cuts a big figure when it comes to washing, we mean! For the figure 8 is the magic, exclusive feature of the 1900 Cataract Electric Washer. The water swirls through the clothes in a perfect figure 8 motion and four times oftener than in the ordinary washer.

That isn't all—the swinging wringer works electrically, is reversible, and the copper tub hasn't a single part in it to tear the clothes, or to be lifted out and cleaned! Let us bring a 1900 Washer right to your house so that you can try it out. Then if you like it—and we know you will—you can pay for it on the deferred payment plan.

Ford Runs 57 Miles on Gallon of Gasoline

A new automatic Vaporizer and De-carbonizer, which in actual test has increased the power and mileage of Fords from 25 to 50 per cent, and at the same time removed every particle of carbon from the cylinders, is the proud achievement of John A. Strassky, 235 South Main street, Pultenau, South Dakota. A remarkable feature of this simple and inexpensive device is that its action is governed entirely by the motor. It is slipped between the carburetor and intake manifold and can be installed by anyone in five minutes without drilling or tapping. With it attached, Ford cars have made from 30 to 57 miles on one gallon of gasoline. Mr. Strassky wants to place a few of these devices on cars in this territory and has a very liberal offer to make to anyone who is able to handle the business which is sure to be created wherever this marvelous little device is demonstrated. If you want to try one entirely at his risk send him your name and address today.—Advt.

Under a Microscope.

Although nearly every flower presents new beauties of detail when viewed through a microscope, not every one resembles the illustration to some far Eastern wonder tale, as does the swamp saxifrage. Anything but lovely at first unaided glance, this humble flower proves fascinating when seen through a lens. Instead of resembling a cushion stuck full of red-headed pins and decked with knots of ribbon, the microscope view makes one think of an elaborate pagoda ornamented with filigree work, carving and exquisite bits of sculpture, the whole structure expressed in miniature floral form.

Gems Kicked About Street.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Diamond rings worth $5,000, tied in a linen handkerchief, were kicked about the streets and trampled by residents of Tarentum two days before Joseph DeNanze of Tarentum picked up the bundle in Center street. The diamonds were lost by Mrs. Joseph Klein of Tarentum one Monday morning, when she was shopping. The jewelry was turned over to the owner by DeNanze. Mrs. Klein had offered $200 reward.

TAMING OF THE SHREW

Cast Announced for Shakespearean Comedy to Be Presented by Catholic Daughters of America.

Considerable local interest has been created in the "Taming of the Shrew," which will be given at the Oneonta theatre on Wednesday, May 17, by Court Regina, under the personal supervision of Edward Waldmann of New York city, and the production of this popular Shakespearean comedy promises to be one of the most interesting dramatic events of the season. Two violators of the traffic regulations got off easily in city court yesterday. William Mealey, arrested by Sergeant O'Neil for driving his automobile past a trolley car unloading passengers at the corner of Main and Broad streets, pleaded guilty to the offense. His case was dismissed by Judge Huntington. A man by the name of Cady, whose car was tagged by Officer Terry when found parked without lights Thursday night, also had his case dismissed. THE COMMUNITY ASSOCIATION

Annual Report of Welfare Organization an Indication of Its Benefit to City.

The following report of the Oneonta Community association for the past year, which was read at the recent annual meeting of the association, will be of interest as showing the scope of the work done and the importance of the organization in the life of the community.

The Oneonta Community association was formed in September, 1920, for the purpose of coordinating all health and social work in Oneonta, to assist work already being carried on and to encourage development of other work needed.

The first accomplishment of the Association was to ask the Common Council for the old Library building for a Community house. This was granted and an appropriation made for remodeling the house, making it suitable for the work. The house was ready for occupancy June 1, 1921, with offices for the Red Cross, Family Social Work association, County Tuberculosis committee, Clinic rooms and Recreation rooms. The affiliated organizations have had a clerical worker maintained for them by the Association.

In the fall of 1921, the Association put on a Community Chest drive to finance all health and social work in the city, including several organizations not in the Community house. This campaign for 10 organizations cost no more than that for a single organization, thereby being a great saving of time, energy and money.

In December, 1921, the Association appealed to the city for $550 for maintenance of the Community house which was granted.

In March 1922, the Association produced under their auspices "The Pied Piper," a most pleasing pageant, in which 450 people took part. This not only enrolled the interest of many people but also netted the association $400.

Teh activities in the Community house will be incorporated in other reports. There are on an average of 400 people who come to the house for one reason or another each month, about 5,000 a year. An average of about 300 telephone calls answered every month.

What does all this mean—that the Community association has made possible and assisted this community development and is going to continue.

First Presbyterian C. E. Society.

A Christian Endeavor society has been organized among the young people of the First Presbyterian church, and the first meeting will be held Sunday evening at 8:30 in the Sunday school room. It is planned to make the meetings of interest to young people, and it is hoped the society will be loyally supported. The officers are:

President—Miss Catherine Gallagher.
Vice President—Miss Edith Eggleston.
Secretary—Judson Lutsey.
Treasurer—Charles Lauren.

Boys Land on Otsego Lake.

Orange L. VanHorne esq., a well-known attorney at the county seat, purchased yesterday of Charles L. Vibbard a tract of two acres of land on the west side of Otsego lake. The land in question has a frontage of 200 feet on the lake and is situated just south of the Spaulding property and adjoining the Springfield landing. The property is a very desirable one and Mr. VanHorne is to be congratulated on its acquisition. His plans regarding the property are not yet completed.

You cannot blame people who are continually changing from one brand of coffee to another. They have never tried the famous Otsego coffee. advt. 6t.
